A Living Schism- The Origins
The Foundation
1863 After a division in policies Abraham Lincoln had summoned Fredrick Douglass to discuss the recruitment of African American men to join the USCT. The war was taking its toll on the Union and over the next two years because of the bravery displayed by those soldiers the tide began to turn and ultimately the war was won.
Fredrick Douglass was giving speeches for the recruitment of African Americans for the USCT throughout Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Virginia. In 1863 Abraham Grant, Tilman Valentine, John R. Scott, Rueben S. Mitchell, Josiah Armstrong and Josiah T. Walls were all veterans of the Civil War.
Harriet Tubman
Tubman During the Civil War

During the Civil War, Tubman worked for the Union army as a nurse, a cook, and a spy. Her experience leading slaves along the Underground Railroad was especially helpful because she knew the land well. She recruited a group of former slaves to hunt for rebel camps and report on the movement of the Confederate troops. In 1863, she went with Colonel James Montgomery and about 150 black soldiers on a gunboat raid in South Carolina. Because she had inside information from her scouts, the Union gunboats were able to surprise the Confederate rebels. She also led a raid with John Brown on Harpers Ferry.
Appomattox Court House,
Lee’s Surrender at Appomattox, 1865 in front of the 25th and 29th Regiment of the USCT

• Prelude to Surrender

• On April 3, Richmond fell to Union troops as Robert E. Lee led his Army of Northern Virginia in retreat to the West pursued by Grant and the Army of the Potomac. A running battle ensued as each Army moved farther to the West in an effort to outflank, or prevent being out flanked by the enemy. Finally, on April 7, General Grant initiated a series of dispatches leading to a meeting between the two commanders.
The Jacksonville Mutiny

1. In 1882, three Indian Scouts (Sgt. Jim Dandy, Corp. Skippy, and Sgt. Dead Shot), who were attached to the 6th U.S. Cavalry, were executed on the charge of mutiny. These individuals were in an auxiliary status as scouts, and the offense for which they were convicted should have been charged as murder. These scouts joined with a party of hostile Indians in a firefight that resulted in the death of an officer and six soldiers. See General Court Martial Order 12 of 1882.

3. Late in the war, several blacks were commissioned as officers to serve in black regiments. Additionally, several regiments of free blacks raised early in the war by General Butler and Sen. Jim Lane were officered by blacks. These officers, however, were replaced with whites.

5. RHB to the editor, A.M.E. The Christian Recorder, August 6, 1864.

ment to care for the widows and orphans of deceased members of the several subordinate lodges working under the protection of the Grand Lodge in Florida. It was the first organization that bought and built a Temple for the Grand Lodge in Florida. It is today the wealthiest institution known among our group in the state.

The first Grand Master of this honorable institution was Most Worshipful Harry H. Thompson, who served from 1870 to 1872; he was succeeded by Most Worshipful John R. Scott, Sr., who served from 1872 to 1880. Mr. Scott died as Grand Master of this order. His unexpired term was carried out by Rev. Abraham Grant who was Deputy Grand Master. He was later made bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1880, Most Worshipful Tillman Valentine was elected Grand Master, and served until 1888, when Reuben S. Mitchell was elected Grand Master and served until 1890. In 1890 Dr. Harrison Samuel Coleman was elected Grand Master, and served until the latter part of 1899, when he lost his life in a wreck. John H. Dickerson, Deputy Grand Master, was elected Grand Master in 1899, and served until 1916, when, in August, David Daniel Powell, was elected as Grand Master. He is the only elected Grand Master living.

The Masonic Temple at Broad and Duval Streets was built under the administration of Grand Master John H. Dickerson, and paid for during the administration of Grand Master D. D. Powell. The building, a five story, fireproof brick structure, containing a modern facilities throughout, is valued at $500,000, and is out of debt except for a few taxes. The Temple was begun in 1912 and completed in 1913. It is rated among the leading buildings of the South among either race.
